

Step 12:
Thread the end of the wire back.
Create a loop of R. Thread one end through the T3 and 2x R.

Step 13:
Thread the wire through the other end of the T3, 2x R and the T3. Tie off the ends of the wire. Pull the ends into the T3 and R.
Cut off any excess.

Step 14:
String the loops onto the point of the safety pin. Slide them onto the lower part of the pin. Use rings at the site of the R to connect the pyramids to the safety pin's wire.

- a regular 0.24 mm wire; snipping pliers;
a ruler

Difficulty:

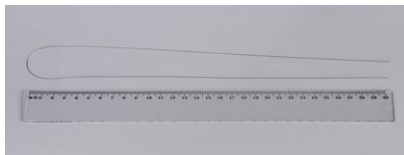

Technique: simple sewing, stringing

Procedure:

The frame of the tilted pyramid

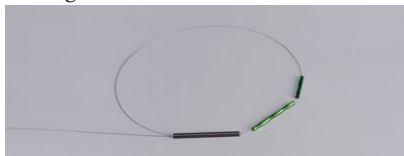

Step 1:

Cut off 60 cm of wire. String 1x T4, 1x T3 and 1x T2. Move them to the middle of the wire.

Step 2:

Thread the wire through the T4 one more time from the opposite side. This will create a triangle.

Step 3:

String 1x T3 and 1x T2 onto the wire next to the triangle's more acute angle.

Step 4:

Thread the wire through the T3 from the initial triangle. This will create a large green triangle.

Step 5:

Also thread the wire through the second T3.

Step 6:

String 1x T2 onto the other end of the wire.

Step 7:

Thread the wire through the T2. This will create a small green triangle.

Step 8:

Tighten the triangle. Thread the wire through both remaining T2.

Step 9:

Tie off both ends of the wire and pull them into the adjacent T2 and T3.

The earrings

Step 10:

Thread a ring between the T4 and T3 at the top of the pyramid. Attach a hook to it and crimp it closed.

The brooch

Step 11:

Prepare three pyramids. You will string T3 onto the pyramids (the T4 will lie on the base). String 6x R, 1x T3, 2x R, 1x T3, 2x R and 1x T3 onto the wire.
